

Tuesday 5th June 2018

Dear Parent/Carer,

The NSPCC's Speak out Stay safe programme is visiting our school to make sure our pupils have the knowledge and understanding they need to stay safe from abuse. It is linked to other work we are completing in Wellbeing Week next week and is also a vital element to our wider role of safeguarding children.

I'm pleased to tell you that we will be working with the NSPCC, the UK's leading children's charity, who'll be delivering their Speak out. Stay safe. programme on Monday 18th June. This is a nationwide programme for every primary-school-aged child in the UK and Channel Islands. With the help of their friendly mascot Buddy, they'll be presenting an assembly to all the children in our school as well as a workshop for Years 5 and 6 on Tuesday 26th June.

What is the Speak out. Stay safe. programme?

Through child-friendly, interactive assemblies and workshops the NSPCC specially trained staff and volunteers will give our children information about how to keep themselves safe from harm and how to get help if they have any worries, sensitively discussing issues like bullying and sexual abuse, without using scary words or adult language.

We have studied the content of the materials and heard from other schools who have participated and are extremely confident that they are appropriate for primary-school-aged children. By the end of their visit, we're convinced children will feel empowered – knowing how they can speak out and stay safe.

If you would like any more information about the NSPCC Speak out. Stay safe. programme, including frequently asked questions, you can find it on the NSPCC website nspcc.org.uk/schools or please come into speak to me and I can provide more information.

Talking about the Underwear Rule with your children

The NSPCC's work in schools will help encourage conversations about staying safe – and they have a number of child-friendly materials to help you carry on the conversation afterwards. That includes 'The Underwear Rule', a simple way for parents to help keep children safe from abuse.

The guide uses the rules of PANTS to teach children that their body belongs to them and them alone. You can find out more and download the free resources at nspcc.org.uk/pants

If you'd like to know more about the NSPCC's work, or take a look at the wide range of information and advice which is available for parents and carers, please visit their website nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/keeping-children-safe/

As a charity, the NSPCC can only provide these vital resources to schools thanks to the financial support and generosity of supporters. We will therefore be having a crazy sock day on 18th June, when NSPCC are visiting and ask that each child brings a 50p donation for NSPCC for wearing their crazy socks. The rest of their uniform should remain the same.

Yours sincerely, Tracey Hart, Headteacher
